Estefany Salas

I lead product and engineering teams that deliver business results.

Developer, then product manager, now engineering manager at Platzi. I speak business, client and engineering, so my teams build the right thing and ship it well.

Platzi Learn

Companies keep their know-how in docs, calls and slides. Learn, Platzi's AI product, turns it into courses for their teams.

WHAT I DID

- Built the implementations team from zero.
- Defined the Forward Deploy Engineer role.
- Lead the teams that bring Learn to clients like Claro, Rappi and Simetrik.

Product Manager · 2022-2026

Public home redesign

Led the redesign of Platzi's public home. Registration and purchase conversion went up.

Referral program

Students invite friends to a 7-day free trial. A new acquisition channel I launched.

Automated renewals

With my team, automated the full subscription renewal flow: product, communications and the experience around it.

Developer · Product Owner

New Student Home and class view

Led the new class view on React microfrontends and owned the new Student Home. More students started taking classes, and both pages got faster.

Leadership built from every seat

Translate between worlds

I've sat in each seat, so I can turn a client problem into a product decision and a plan the team believes in.

Decide with evidence

Roadmaps start with clients, account managers and customer success, then get checked against the numbers.

Grow people, hold the bar

I invest in each person's skills and keep quality high when we move fast.
